

VERY Thankful

for
GRANDPARENTS

Grandparent's Day
Scranton Elementary School

At Scranton Elementary School, we are thankful for grandparents and want to have our grandparents involved in the education of their grandchildren. Grandparents are an incredible educational resource and connection to their grandchildren. Grandparents Day recognizes the importance of our heritage, our community, and relationships across generations.

We are inviting the grandparents of our students to visit on Grandparent's Day to be held the Tuesday before Thanksgiving, November 21, 2017. This event is intended for children and their grandparents/stepgrandparents or a special "grandfriend." Sorry – our space is limited, so parents and siblings cannot attend this event. We understand that all children don't have grandparents, and that some grandparents will be unable to attend. We encourage these children to invite another special older adult – a family friend, other relative like an aunt or uncle, or a neighbor.

Scranton Elementary's Grandparents Day on November 21, 2017 will be a drop in (come and go) event from 12:45-1:45 in the afternoon. Grandparents are invited to visit their grandchild's classroom. Grandparents will be directed to their student's classroom where they will sign in. After visiting the classroom, students can be signed out from the classroom to leave with the grandparent(s) for the day.

Sincerely,

The Faculty & Staff at Scranton Elementary School
